

Where do I go from here?

Summary on Proactive Security

- Being proactive is the best thing you can do for your security posture
- No matter what industry you are in, the more you are proactive, the better off you are

Get others involved

- Security Assessments
- Auditing
- Education
- External partners
- Internal teams

Stay on top of it

- If you are not educating yourself at least 30 minutes a day, your potential threats are winning
- Understanding your environment and testing can help your security posture as well
- Leave you with one more story – Being proactive